NOTES OF THE DOMINION.

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST PICKED UP HERE AND THERE.

Collected From the Writings of the Dominion and Condensed for the Information of the Reading Public.

Delta creamery, the first creamery to be established on a large scale in the province of B.C., turned out the first butter the other day.

A dynamite explosion on the Perry Sound railway, occurred just outside the city of Ottawa. Three Saxons received the full force of the shock, one being instantly killed, and the other two are in the hospital and their recovery is not possible.

It is stated that George Porter's defalcation at the Quebec branch of the Bank of Montreal was caused by speculation. He had purchased at a broker's $50,000 worth of wheat on the margin, for which he put up $25,000. Of the amount it is quite certain the bank will lose $25,000.

By working night and day, the repairs to the break in the Crowell canal were completed, and the last of the smashed lock gates were repaired. The water was raised to the level, and the large Glenora dam at the top of the lock, where she had wedged herself at the time of the accident.

Brush fires contiguous to the city limit of Vancouver, B.C., have been burning fiercely. The fire department is watching them in the east and to see that no damage is done to the city property. In the western suburbs, between False Creek, railroad bridge and Jericho, some valuable timber is being destroyed, but no damage to city property is feared.

Hon. T. C. Costigan, attorney general of the province of Quebec, has under consideration a suggestion to reorganize the crown office in Montreal, so that in future the ends of justice in that city will be more quickly attained. It is proposed to appoint the present crown prosecutors, Messrs. Archambault and Quinn directors of public prosecution, with full powers vested, with authority to proceed in all cases where it is deemed necessary.

A special from New York says it was announced there a few days ago that a committee of Irishmen is now in session, considering a call for a convention of Irish associates in the United States and Canada, the object of which will be to denounce or ignore all preliminary measures for the relief of Ireland's hardships and to initiate revolutionary measures. It is said that the convention will probably be held in Chicago at St. Louis.

An arrangement has been entered into granting the Colonbo-Belgium Steamship Navigation company a yearly subsidy of $100,000 for a fortnight, with free passage to and from the port of Antwerp. The first steamer will leave Montreal, May 1st, 1895, and will have an average speed of eleven knots. Dr. Lachapelle, M.P., has been in view for several days in connection with this matter, and at last a final arrangement has been reached.

Thomas J. Watters, ex-commissioner of customs, who was recently released from Carleton county jail on account of ill-health, is remaining quiet at home. He is in bad health, but now that he has his liberty, the impression prevails that some startling disclosures of the methods of the customs department will be made. Mr. Watters' friends do not hesitate to say his imprisonment was purely a matter of spite, and that there were nothing more than technical misdoings trumped up against him for these reasons.

Robert Wycoff pleaded not guilty before Judge Price of Kingston on a charge of manslaughter for killing W. H. Castelli by a blow from a base ball bat at a game on July 25th, at Sydney. The crown presented the facts of the conflict and that Castelli died from the effects of the blow received. In the prisoner's behalf many witnesses testified to Castelli's aggressiveness and that Wycoff acted only in self defence. Counsel addressed the judge, who found Wycoff guilty of killing Castelli, but released him on suspended sentence on his own recognizance.

Col. Tyrwhitt, M.P., who while attending the Orange grand lodge at Hamilton, had a narrow escape from drowning the other afternoon. While out in a steam launch with Sam Hughes, the colonel and he jumped into the sea for a swim and swam for some minutes, when Hughes noticed that Col. Tyrwhitt was sagging behind and looked pale. The steam launch had drifted off some distance, but those on board heard the cry for help and threw a life preserver. Col. Tyrwhitt managed to catch it and was pulled on board the boat in an exhausted condition.

A deputation of farmers from Grey county waited on the Ontario government the other afternoon to lay before it the distressing condition of the farmers of that county as a result of the plague of grasshoppers during the summer and continued drought. The deputation dwelt at length on the different townships and asked either a cash grant from the government, or leave for the county to pass a by-law granting the volunteers a bounty on their services. Hon. Mr. Dryden, who represented the government, promised the matter would be carefully considered.

First of Its Kind.

The following militia general order, the first of its kind ever published in Canada, was gazetted at Ottawa on Saturday, and is extended as a special mark of approbation.

Headquarters, Ottawa, 20th July, 1895. Private T. H. Hayhurst, Thirteenth battalion, active militia of Canada, a member of the Canadian rifle team to compete at the annual matches of the National Rifle Association of England, 1895, had the honor to win at Bisley on the 2nd instant. Her Majesty the Queen's prize, being the highest, competed for at those matches. This prize carries with it the gold medal and gold badge added by the National Rifle Association of England. By command.

WALKER POWELL, Colonel, Adjutant-General of Militia, Canada.

WATER POWER AND ELECTRICITY.

Possibilities in the Direction of This Combination.

The substitution of steam for water power marks the beginning of a new era in the history of mechanical production. It would be curious if the re-entrance of water power into the generation of energy should mark the close of the age of steam. The application of water power to productive use has never been quite abandoned. But it has survived the dominion of its mighty rival as implements of the stone age are found co-existing with the age of bronze. The water wheel has been reserved for humble uses and has held its own only in places either remote from roads or where water power was peculiarly remarkable for its convenience and constancy. But the alliance between the water wheel and the electric dynamo opens up new fields of electricity. The power of the cascade and the already begun to cast steam from its long undisputed position of industrial supremacy. There is a vast interval between the power of Niagara and the presence of an artisan wheel which is the basis of the industrial purpose of manufacture and transportation. But at every point of this there are applications of water power to the generation of electricity, and the application of the electric power to the water wheel for the purpose of motive power.

The problem of the long distance transmission of energy by means of electricity has been at least partially solved. The how far without serious loss of power is now known better after the Niagara experiment is fairly under way. But in a science so progressive as that which has to do with the application of electricity to the service of man it would be absurd to assume that the experience of this year will be only an introduction to the triumphs of the next. In any case, we know that the power derived from the water wheel which has assumed the power of electrical vibration, may be effectively and economically transmitted twenty or thirty miles from its source. How much that means for the region between the Missouri and the Rocky Mountains where the dearth of capital a prohibitory tax on the employment of steam for manufacturing purposes is only beginning to be realized. How much it may mean, even where coal is abundant and cheap has yet to be demonstrated.

It is not alone where there are water falls as a source of power, or artisan wheels developing pressure of fifty to two hundred pounds per square inch, that the combination between the water wheel and the dynamo is beginning to work wonders. A great prairie state like Nebraska, traversed by rather sluggish rivers, has in it the potentiality of enormous reserves of power. It only needs a canal of sufficient length to tap the river at one point and discharge its waters with a fair head at another to develop all the power needed by a fairly large group of manufacturing establishments. There are two such canals already in Nebraska—one eleven miles long and the other ten and a half miles long—which yield the equivalent in power of about fifteen thousand horse power. These are but the beginning of a movement destined to have a very important influence on the industrial future of the far west.

NOXIOUS WEEDS.

Farmers Becoming Interested in the Attempt to Destroy Plant Pests.

It is evident that the province at large has become interested in the subject of noxious weeds. Every man has samples from different parts of the province, asking the department of agriculture to furnish name and description of the weeds enclosed. The season has been so far so favorable for all kinds of vegetation, so that weeds unnoticed in past years by farmers are conspicuous by their rank growth this season. The references in the Free Press regarding weeds from time to time, and the fact that the department is examining their crops with the result above noted. Noxious weeds that are now sent in for classification are specimens that have already been classified, and the information is a service to the inquirer. Although in many cases the weeds are now sufficiently mature to ripen seeds, it is a mistake to suppose that the work of exterminating the same is over for the time being. The weeds should be gathered together and burned. As soon as the harvest is off, a disc harrow should be put over the stubble to induce germination of the seeds that fall. These will be destroyed by the action of the harrow, and the weeds will be of special benefit in the matter of a clean crop next season.

Gen. Herbert's Successor.

Col. Gascoine, of the Scots Guards, is the military man picked to succeed Gen. Herbert in command of the Canadian militia. He proceeds to Canada very shortly. The colonel's experience is practically confined to the militia, and he is highly spoken of in military circles. It is said that probably he will be so drastic as to cut Herbert in his conduct of affairs. Col. Gascoine served with his corps through the Egyptian campaign, taking part in the battles of Tel-el-Kebir and Siaki. He is deputy adjutant general of the militia of London, and has a great deal of experience with the metropolitan volunteers. Col. Gascoine is full colonel of the Guards and has recently been recommended to promotion to a major generalship.

Cast Books Upon the Water.

A sealed tin case, which, on being opened, was found to contain a copy of Milton's "Paradise Lost," was picked up in the lower part of the Penobscot river, Maine, a few days ago. Inquiry disclosed the fact that in a small town on the river lives an old timothy of literary tastes and some odd ideas, and that it is his custom to throw out of excellent books in tin cans, tightly soldered, and so constructed as to float easily, and to set them afloat in the river in the hope that they will be picked up by the residents of the Maine islands at the mouth of the river, who are very kept in close touch with culture, or else by sailors. I think the peculiarity of the way in which the books reach the readers helps to secure for them a reading—Boston Herald.

IS PARALYSIS CURABLE?

MR. GEO. LITTLE OF ESSEX COUNTY SAYS IT IS.

He Gives His Own Terrible Experience to Prove the Truth of His Assertion—Suffered Over Two Years—Both Himself and Family Thoroughly Exhausted—Death of His Wife—His Sufferings—Again Enjoying the Blessings of Sound Health.

From the Essex Free Press.

Life is truly a burden to those not blessed with a full measure of health and strength, but when a strong man is brought to the verge of almost utter helplessness when doctors fail and there is apparently nothing left to do but wait the dread summons that comes but once to all, the case assumes an attitude of extreme sadness. In such a condition as this did Mr. George Little, of the township of Colchester, Nova Scotia, find himself, and recently the Free Press hearing incidentally that he had recovered health and strength, a reporter was sent to investigate. He called in one of the best known physicians of Essex county, who appeared to do all that lay in his power for the relief of Mr. Little, but to no avail. For two and a half years he suffered the most intense pain and was confined to his bed for the greater part of the time. The doctor was puzzled with his case and as he seemed to obtain no relief, he changed doctors for a period. The second doctor did not better than the first, and Mr. Little returned to the one he had first called in. Finally, despairing of ever finding relief, he left the physician that he did not see any further use of taking his medicines, and believed he should die if he did not obtain relief in a short time. He had wasted away to little more than a mere skeleton, and was an object of pity by his neighbors, all thought that it was merely a question of time when Mr. Little's life would be ended. While his limbs were partially paralyzed he could use them sufficiently to hobble about the house and door yard, but if he undertook to walk to the stable he would be confined to his bed for a week or two. His limbs grew numb and cold. During the hottest days in summer he was obliged to sit with his legs and feet in a hot oven, wrapped in cloths until the skin came off in scales. Mr. Little believed that his physician was doing all that could be done, and has nothing but kindly feelings for the treatment he received at his hands, but he is certain that the doctor had no hope of his recovery. He had tried an advertised mineral water, taking in all, seven gallons of it, but failed to obtain relief. After suffering for two and a half years, Mr. Little, in the summer of 1892, read of a case similar to his own that had been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Grasping at this last hope he sent for a box and began taking them. Before the second box was all used, Mr. Williams' was satisfied that he had found a remedy that would cure him of his exceedingly painful and mysterious ailment. Mr. Little continued the use of Pink Pills for several months and was able to get out and do light work about the farm, which he had not been able to do for over two years. He continued taking Pink Pills a while longer, when he was fully recovered and was able to do any of the hardest work on his farm, and in the winter time worked almost steadily at saw logging and wood-chopping. During the past fall, he says, he was frequently cutting wood to winter, a distance of fifteen miles. He looks at present as if he had hardly seen a sick day in his life time.

Mr. Little feels deeply grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and claims that his complete recovery is entirely due to the use of the pills. He gives his testimony for the benefit of others who may be similarly affected. Mr. Little's wife who was present at this interview, corroborated Mr. Little's testimony and believes he owes his entire recovery to the use of Pink Pills. The entire family look upon the husband and father as one rescued from the grave by the timely use of Pink Pills.

On inquiry among Mr. Little's neighbors, we find that he is a man of undoubted veracity. He has lived in Essex county all his lifetime, and on his present home in Colchester, Nova Scotia, for four years. He is the superintendent of the Edgar Mills Sunday school, and his case is too well known in that district to be disputed. His neighbors looked upon his cure as most miraculous one, his health having been expected among them for many months before he began the use of Pink Pills.

HAS RAISED A PROTEST.

A Missionary Charges White Men With Cruelty to Indians.

Rev. Secretary Rydell, of the Indian department of the American Missionary association, has corresponded with the interior department, concerning the Bannock uprising, and as a result of his investigation of the matter, says, "If ever in the history of our country a protest ought to be raised by Christian people against the slaughter of the Indians it is now. The Bannocks under the laws of the general government are allowed to live. The game laws of Wyoming forbid this. A party of Bannocks killed a lot of game in Wyoming territory. They were arrested, and while being taken to jail sixteen of the seventeen were shot down in their tracks, unarmed. Those of us who know of the brutal character of many of the white men that live in this western territory, and their intense hostilities to the Indians, have a grave suspicion that this was planned in order to kill the Indians. Gen. Miles has given his testimony that the Bannocks are among the most peaceful, and on the whole one of the best tribes on the prairie. Governor Richards, of Wyoming, should at once enforce the law against the white men who were the first aggressors, and then bring the legal matter into the courts. Of course it is an open question whether the treaty of the United States or the statutes of a given commonwealth are to be law."

TO HONOR JOHN CABOT.

A Religious Observance to be Made of His Discovery.

Business for the quadrennial session of the Provincial Synod of the Anglican church in Canada, which meets at Montreal in September, is rapidly accumulating.

The following memorial, having for its object the religious observance of a notable event in the history of Canada and America, namely, the discovery of the continent by John Cabot, an English mariner, was unanimously adopted at the recent meeting of the Synod of the Diocese of Niagara, and has been placed on the programme for consideration by the Provincial Synod.

"To the bishops, clergy and laity of the Church of England in Canada in Provincial Synod assembled: "This memorial from the diocese of Niagara humbly sheweth: "That the year 1497 will be the 400th year since the discovery of America by John Cabot, who on St. John the Baptist Day, June 24th of the year 1497, acting with the authority of Henry VII. of England landed on a spot in the Isle of Cape Breton, or at some place in the northeastern part of Nova Scotia, and thereon planted the flag of England, thus claiming the land for England's throne and England's church."

"That in consequence of this discovery the first future sacraments and the English speaking people within the limits of North America were those of the Church of England."

"That the civilization that was first introduced into North America was that of the Anglo-Saxon race—a civilization sanctified by the influence of the Church of England."

"That the first results of Christianity among the aborigines were accomplished by the Anglican Church."

"That the blessings of civil and religious liberty, of widely disseminated knowledge, and of material comfort and prosperity, which are now enjoyed by the people of America, and especially by the citizens of this Dominion are largely due to the influence of England and England's historic church."

"Your memorialists therefore pray that you will be pleased to prepare and sanction a formal service to be used by the church in this ecclesiastical province of Canada, on the 24th of June, or some other convenient day, in the year 1897, in commemoration of the great event referred to, and in acknowledgment of the blessings that have followed therefrom to the people of this country."

It is not what a man has but what he hopes for that makes him happy.

DIZZINESS IN THE HEAD.

This is a Sure Precursor of Apoplexy, and Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart should at Once be Taken.

No one can read the daily papers without being seriously impressed with the fact that a large number of people in the present age are suffering from the evidence of apoplexy. This is seen and felt often in a trembling and uncertainty of the limbs, and frequently in an unpleasant dizziness and lightness of the head. It is a very insidious disease, knowing these symptoms to exist, does not promptly take measures to have them removed. We know of no remedy that has been so remarkably successful in this direction as Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. Primarily it is a heart cure but it is equally effective in what is to some extent a parallel disease, apoplexy symptoms. In a season when unusual heat prevails and excitement often runs high, we are doing a kindness to men and women by letting them know of this remarkable medicine.

A Family Suffers for Want of a Mother's Attention.

Mr. Neil Morrison, St. John, N. B. "My daughter, Mrs. Gregory has had rheumatism so bad during the last year that she was unable to help her children or attend to her household duties. Every thing imaginable was tried but to no purpose. I was at last recommended to get South American Rheumatic Cure. One bottle cured by daughter within four days, and I take much pleasure in giving this recommendation."

DO NOT SUFFER.

With Kidney Complaint—You can be Relieved Within Six Hours.

I take much pleasure in stating that I have been using South American Kidney Cure, and found relief within six hours after the first dose. I became sick in January, 1893, when I employed several of the local physicians, and was treated by them until the fall of 1894 without receiving much benefit. I then began using South American Kidney Cure, and have found great benefit, and am almost, if not quite, cured. Have not been taking any of the medicine for seven weeks, and feel as well as ever. #### DEADLY CANCER CURED BY B. B. B.

Here is the Proof.

Meers T. Milburn & Co. Sirs.—About four years ago I was taken sick with stomach trouble. I consulted several leading local physicians, all of whom pronounced my disease incurable cancer of the stomach, and told me I had not long to live. Two physicians attending me gave me up to die. Through reading your advertisement of this and by advice of friends, I tried your Burdock Blood Bitters and am happy to say that after using one bottle I was able to leave my bed which I had been confined to for a long time. I am thankful now to state that B. B. B. cured my disease which baffled the doctors, and I am firmly convinced that B. B. B. saved my life.
